UM STUDENT FROM LIBBY GETS JOB EXPERIENCE AS INTERN

MISSOULA--

Dani Fansler of Libby picked up some practical work experience this summer through an internship administered by The University of Montana's Center for Work-based Learning.

A senior in biology, Fansler interned as a lab assistant at the Champion International Superfund cleanup site. She helped analyze soil and water samples and monitor water treatment systems.

Fansler graduated from Libby High School in 1995. Her parents are Bill and Mary Fansler.

The Center for Work-based Learning at UM's Center for Continuing Education and Summer Programs helps students integrate their academic education with practical job experience by developing internship opportunities and coordinating placement activities with employers and faculty advisers. It serves about 1,800 students a year, placing 400 to 500 of them as interns throughout Montana and the nation in more than 35 fields of employment.

Information about the work-based learning program is available at (406) 243-4614 or on the Web at http://www.umt.edu/coop_intern.
